Once that's done, click on install and it'll start partitioning the Mac's drive and will restart your Mac.. After confirming your language, you can choose to download either a 32-bit version or a 64-bit version.. Make sure to select the partition that has the label "BOOTCAMP " This is the partition we want to install Windows 10 on.. Once that's done, plug in your flash drive, and make sure no other external drives are plugged in on the Mac to avoid problems.. If your Mac doesn't boot from the flash drive, just restart it again and hold down the Option key after the boot up sound and then choose to boot from the flash drive.. As for the destination disk, the flash drive will be automatically chosen as the install disk if it's the only flash drive plugged in.. If you're looking to use Windows 10 for a while, and want to experience the new OS as a whole, you may want to leave extra space for any data or software you plan on installing.. We recommend going with the 64-bit version, but if your system is running 32-bit, then go ahead and go with the 32-bit version.. Choose Windows 10 from the drop down menu, hit confirm and choose your language.. VirtualBox is a free virtualization program that can be used to create virtual machines controlled by Linux, Mac OS X or Windows operating systems within a PC that is already controlled by another operating system.
